Are you interested to understand what non-Bank debt options are available to finance your acquisition strategy?

EATON SQUARE FUNDING OPTIONS REVIEW

What options outside of the commercial banks are there for debt to fund our growth and acquisition strategy?

We are frequently approached by Australian business owners who find the asset-backed lending focus of their commercial banking is at odds with their desire to fund growth and acquisitions.

The Eaton Square Funding Options Review is an opportunity to ask:

- Is debt an option to raising capital to fund growth?
- What alternative sources of debt-funding are available to my business?
- What is the range of market-pricing for non-bank debt?

Eaton Square is a cross-border corporate advisory group, our team deals daily with Australian and International providers of non-bank debt for mid-market corporates.

Speak to us for an informed view on current market conditions for non-bank debt finance to fund your growth and acquisition strategy.
